2) Stop using your old account.

And let all your checks clear. This could take several days. To pass the time, destroy any unused checks, ATM and debit cards and deposit slips.

3) Change direct deposits.

Fill out the enclosed form and give it to your employer, the Social Security Administration or your retirement plan. Include a new deposit slip or voided check.

4) Change automatic payments.

Use the enclosed forms to change all automatic withdrawals or automated payment services. Don't forget about those that use your old debit card number, such as automatic payments made online.

5) Close your old account.

Here's the day you've been waiting for. Send in the enclosed form to close your old account. No face-to-face confrontation needed. If, after all your checks have cleared, you have a remaining balance, your old bank will send you a check. It's as simple as that.
